Pierwood Construction Co., one of Columbia County's premier builders, has become the area's peerless market leader in quality custom homes. Committed to offering innovative design, superior workmanship and exceptional value, Pierwood incorporates its philosophy of personal accountability with construction expertise.

Tom Werner, CEO of Pierwood Construction Co. has been involved in the construction industry since 1978. He has been constructing and renovating single-family homes since 1987. The primary focus of Pierwood Construction is giving superior value and quality workmanship to every customer. Tom is a Past President of the Builders Association of Metro Augusta and a current board member. He has been named Builder of the Year three times! Additionally, Tom is a member of the Columbia County Construction Advisory Board, the Chairman of the Production Builders sub-committee of that Board, the Columbia County Chamber of Commerce Board and Treasurer of the Columbia County Library Board. Tom, his wife Susan and their son, Josh attend Wesley United Methodist Church.

Ken Richards, President and Architectural Designer, has a Bachelor's Degree in Architectural Engineering Technology from Southern College of Technology. Ken is also a Past President and current Board Member of the local Builders Association and has been strongly involved in every aspect of the day to day operations of Pierwood since 1993. He was recently awarded the 2010 Builder of the Year. On the cutting edge of new dynamic designs, Ken stresses large open floor plans for today's lifestyle. Pierwood takes great pride in being able to transform a client's idea into a custom home. Ken, his wife Kim, and their daughters Caroline and Catherine also attend Wesley United Methodist Church.

Pierwood has achieved the Certified Green Professional designation from NAHB and is constantly working to make houses more energy efficient. All homes are built to meet or exceed Georgia Power "Good Cents" standards. Additionally, Pierwood offers a warranty from 2-10 Home Buyers Warranty to ensure that all new homebuyers have the industry's most comprehensive warranty coverage.
